Court Halts New School Construction

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — For the first time in an Arkansas school desegregation case, a court has ordered a halt to construction of schools that Negro plaintiffs contend would promote segregation.

Copies were received at federal district court here Tuesday of an 8th Circuit Court of Appeals order issued Monday in St. Louis.

The order halts construction of a junior high school in Little Rock and an elementary school in the neighboring city of North Little Rock.

The appeals court said the injunctions would remain in effect until it disposes of the issues raised in the suit.

While issuing the injunctions, the appeals court also directed the plaintiffs to post $25,000 bond in each case to cover any damages suffered if "it is ultimately decided that the injunctions should not have been issued."

mentation of $210 million. The Senate expanded to nine men its negotiating delegation, adding Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chief SST foe and Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., who favors the plan.

But it appeared unlikely the new conference would even begin work before tonight. The House recessed until evening while many members attended the funeral of Rep. L. Mendel Rivers in Charleston, S.C.

Anyway, Senate members of the initial conference said they doubt the new round of talks will do much good.

Proxmire said if the dispute isn't settled, he will filibuster against the SST to the end of the session.

In other work it did finish Tuesday, the Senate passed, 81 to 0, a massive increase in Social Security benefits—but that bill appeared to be foundering in between the two houses.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said it will be impossible to work out a compromise for passage this Congress.

MOSCOW (AP) — About a dozen Jews stood in the snow outside the Russian Federation Supreme Court today as a closed hearing began on appeals of the nine Jews and two Gentiles convicted of plotting to hijack a Soviet airliner to escape from the Soviet Union.

One woman was taken away screaming by two plainclothesmen after she told foreign newsmen: "They won't let us into the courtroom or out of the country."

Two of the Jewish defendants were sentenced to death and the other defendants given labor camp terms of from 4 to 15 years. All were convicted of treason last Thursday at Leningrad.

During the Leningrad trial, the defendants admitted they conspired to commandeer the small Aeroflot plane so the Jews could emigrate to Israel. But they denied their actions constituted treason.

No relatives of the defendants or sympathizers were allowed inside the courthouse. One man who got to the door of the second-floor courtroom before he was expelled said about 10 uniformed militiamen were guarding the corridors outside the door.

The defendants themselves were believed to be still in Leningrad.

The woman arrested outside the Supreme Court, Esfir Mostkova of Novosibirsk, told correspondents she has been trying unsuccessfully to go to Israel since 1948. She said she has cancer and wants to see her son in Israel before she dies.

"We are not optimistic about the fate of the defendants," she said, "or that the foreign reaction will make the authorities give in. All we can do to influence them is make noise."

Like the Leningrad trial, the appeal hearing was also barred to foreign newsmen. A guard said no seats were available.

Several Western governments have appealed for clemency for Mark Dymshits and Edward Kuznetsov, the two sentenced to death for masterminding the hijack plan. Criticism of the severity of the sentences also has come from the Communist parties of several Western nations and from dissidents inside the Soviet Union.

Andrei D. Sakharov, the physicist who developed the Soviet Union's hydrogen bomb, circulated a letter among foreign correspondents Tuesday calling for commutation of the death sentences, reduction of the other sentences, and leniency for the black Communist Angela Davis, who is facing murder, kidnap and conspiracy charges in California. The letter was addressed to President Nikolai V. Podgorny of the Soviet Union and President Nixon.

Sakharov is known as a civil libertarian in Russia.

Reader's Digest Claims Change in Methods

NEW YORK (AP) — The Reader's Digest, challenged by the Federal Trade Commission on the practices it has used in sweepstakes contests, says it recently changed those practices.

The magazine's response came Tuesday after the FTC announced a proposed complaint charging that in 11 such promotions between 1966 and 1969, the Digest supposedly offered 699,293 prizes worth $5,645,000 but handed out only 274,282 prizes worth $2,530,700.

According to the magazine, headquartered in Pleasantville, N.Y., the problem developed because in those years many persons who had been preselected as winners did not claim their prizes.

"This year, whether claimed or not, all prizes have been awarded—more than $400,000," a spokesman said. "This figure represents actual cost to the Digest, not estimated retail sales value."

The magazine said it has sought for a year the issuance of sweepstakes rules by the FTC to insure uniform industry standards. The FTC has not issued such rules, choosing to deal case by case with various instances of sweepstakes allegedly not being what they seemed.

Commutations Bring Varied Reactions

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, saying he hoped other governors would follow his example, has commuted to life the sentences of all 15 men on death row in Arkansas. The prisoners were jubilant, but some state officials were sharply critical of the action.

Rockefeller, 58, said his only reason for granting the commutations Tuesday was that he was unalterably opposed to the death penalty and hoped to "hasten the elimination of barbarism as a tool of American justice."

Nine of the men, three whites and six blacks, were sentenced for murder. Six others, all blacks, were sentenced for rape of white women.

The action came two weeks before Rockefeller is to leave office.

Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers, who will succeed Rockefeller Jan. 12, commented: "I know he acted in accordance with his personal philosophy. I'm sure he had sufficient information to justify in his own mind the action that he took."

Larry McGuire, superintendent of the Tucker Prison Farm that houses death row, said the 15 men were "very elated, very happy" at the news.

But state Rep. G. W. "Buddy" Turner of Pine Bluff said he had heard Rockefeller's message to the convicts and "now I'd like to have his message to the victims."

State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott said he was shocked, declaring, "I've always felt that the people who heard the evidence and the presiding judges should know more about how to handle a sentence than a chief executive."

Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver said the wholesale commutation order was unprecedented in Arkansas.

Rockefeller, announcing his decision at a news conference, said he would send a copy of his order to other state chief executives and hoped they would follow his lead.

Rockefeller declared a moratorium on executions when he became governor eight years ago. He has not promoted any death sentences because, he copter gunship squadron and a squadron of OV10 light attack planes—will continue to operate in support of South Vietnamese forces in the Mekong delta. And ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet and the U.S. Coast Guard are continuing to operate in the offshore waters.

The 650 boats the United States has turned over to the Vietnamese since November 1968 include 293 river patrol boats, 224 river assault craft, 107 "Swift" boats for river patrols and 26 Coast Guard craft. At peak strength in 1968, the Navy had 38,000 men in South Vietnam, but this has been reduced to 17,000, not including the 19,000 Navy and Coast Guard personnel assigned to offshore units.

the elimination of barbarism as a tool of American justice" and that he was convinced that "justice is not best served with the death philosophy."

Juries in Arkansas still may impose the death penalty in new cases that come before them, but Rockefeller said he had no idea how his action might affect capital crime penalties from now on.

The commutations were granted without any relevance to the records of the men or to the manner in which the penalty is imposed, Rockefeller said. Statistics indicate blacks are condemned in Arkansas more often than other races.

The man who had been on Arkansas' death row the longest was Lonnie B. Mitchell, who was received at the prison April 11, 1959, after being convicted of rape of a 76-year-old white woman in Union County. Mitchell was 23 then.

Also reprieved was William L. Maxwell, 30, who was convicted in 1962. Maxwell, a Negro, was sentenced in the rape of a white woman at Hot Springs.

Maxwell's case was before the U.S. Supreme Court last fall and appeared to give the court an opportunity to rule on the constitutionality of capital punishment. The high court sent the case back to U.S. District Court at Little Rock, however, for a review of Maxwell's contentions that he was denied a fair trial since the court excluded jurors who professed opposition to capital punishment.

The newest arrival on death row was Daniel Montgomery. He arrived last Nov. 30 for rape in Phillips County.

The other 12 men whose sentences were commuted were: Orion Trotter and Albert Harris, imprisoned April 11, 1963, on conviction in the rape of a white woman in Drew County.

Jerry James Johnson, imprisoned July 9, 1963, on conviction for murder in Little Rock. Clarence Stewart Jr., imprisoned Sept. 24, 1963, for murder in Pulaski County.

John Henry Sheppard, imprisoned Oct. 28, 1964, for murder in Union County.

Walter Lonnie Brown, imprisoned Nov. 6, 1964, for murder in Jefferson County.

James Williams, imprisoned Dec. 11, 1964, for murder in Ashley County.

Frank Harris, imprisoned March 10, 1965, for murder in Poinsett County.

Allen Frank Davis, imprisoned June 18, 1968, for murder in Garland County.

Franklin Bosnick Sr., imprisoned Sept. 6, 1969, for murder in St. Francis County.

James Scott, imprisoned Feb. 28, 1970, for rape in St. Francis County.

Royce Vann Murphy, imprisoned Dec. 2, 1969, for murder in Jefferson County.

said, he had hoped the U.S. Supreme Court would declare the death penalty unconstitutional but the high court has yet to rule on the question.

Aged to Pay 6% More for Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The aged must pay 6 per cent more for supplemental medicare benefits next July 1 largely because of rising doctor charges, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced today.

The current $5.30 a month premium will increase to $5.60 a month for the 19.5 million medicare subscribers. This is far less than the $1.30, or 32 per cent, increase announced last December for the current fiscal year.

Most of the latest increase was attributed to the expected 6.7 per cent jump in the amount of doctors' fees covered by medicare and to an estimated 2 per cent rise in the use of physicians' services.

HEW said an estimated 15 per cent increase in the cost and utilization of such institutional services as hospital outpatient clinics will account for the remainder of the premium rise.

Supplemental medicare meets parts of the elderly's nonhospital medical expenses. The government, which matches individual contributions, will pay out an additional $70 million from general revenues next year because of the premium increase.

Demoted FDA Scientist Case Reopened

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has agreed under pressure to reopen the case of a Food and Drug Administration scientist who was demoted and allegedly harassed after accusing superiors of burying adverse findings on food chemicals.

At the insistence of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., Elliot L. Richardson, secretary of health, education and welfare, has agreed to investigate whether the FDA ignores advice of its own scientists and manipulates laboratory data to hide dangers of some food additives and pesticides.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate appropriations subcommittee that oversees the HEW budget, demanded the probe in a Dec. 22 letter to Richardson.

He referred to two FDA pathologists whose charges of administrative mismanagement were disclosed by The Associated Press. The two recently accepted transfers to the new Environmental Protection Agency.

One of the scientists, Dr. Howard L. Richardson—no relation to the HEW secretary—was replaced as the FDA's chief pathologist May 19 after unearthing a 1950 agency study on the safety of the artificial sweetener cyclamate.

The experiment showed the same cancer dangers that led to the government's ban on cyclamate 20 years later, Dr. Richardson said. This finding and others by FDA scientists have been manipulated or ignored by superiors for years, he said in a internal memorandum.

worth of construction underway. A new poultry processing plant under construction at the Proving Ground will cost over $250,000.

The Hope Street Department completed four different paving projects on which the property owners participated, forming paving districts to distribute the cost among property owners. The projects include three blocks of South Edgewood, on which the property owners also paid for the cost of curb and gutter. Three other improvement districts were formed in the Oaklawn area, which included North Bell, Berry Street, and a section of North Walker. In addition to this, two federally assisted street projects were completed by contract. One of these was building a new paved road from the intersection of South Main and 23rd Streets to the L&A Railroad. This is to serve industries located in that area. The other was an extension of streets in the West Industrial site to further prepare the site for industrial development.

In addition to this, the Street Department resurfaced several miles of old blacktop streets. The new Drott Excavating Machine was used to clean and shape an estimated three miles of drainage ditches. Due to the exceptionally good fall weather, the street department stayed busy on maintenance work almost full time until December 15.

Altogether, city improvement projects totaled close to one million dollars. The largest part of this was in the $750,000 federally assisted project for water, sewer, and roads to serve existing industry and provide for additional industrial growth. The federal grant obtained for this project amounted to 60 percent of the total cost.

The largest item of cost in this project was the installation of 12" castiron water mains to industrial areas that need large water capacity for automatic sprinkler systems. Over 9 miles of 12" water mains were installed under this project. Hope now has 12" water mains extending to the city limits on all four sides of the city.

Also, the 12" water main extends north down Highway 29, to the Oakhaven area, and west to the airport. This line provides water service to the new Mobile Home Factory, to industry located in the Proving Ground area and a supply for future industrial development of this area. The city anticipates large industrial growth in this area. Presently under construction is a poultry processing plant and one of the largest feed mills anywhere in the south. The City of Hope has granted an option to an industry, which has not yet been named, for the location of an industry which will occupy 132 acres of land in the airport area.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — CBS wound up its two-part Correspondent's Year-end Report Tuesday night with an especially lively session on foreign affairs.

A round table of correspondents disagreed furiously on some matters, agreed on more. There seemed, for instance, a consensus that during the past year the United States has been pulling back in its deployment of influence while Russia was pushing forward.

Diplomatic correspondent Marvin Kalb asserted that Russia would never again have to accept the "humiliation" of pulling back as it did in the Cuban missile crisis.

Morley Safer was alone in his belief there is a good chance of a negotiated peace in the Middle East. But there was general agreement that "while the fuse is still there and lighted, it is a longer one than there was a year ago."

On Vietnam, there seemed agreement that in spite of troop withdrawal, the United States would have forces there for a long time to come.

One snowflake may not make a winter, nor one film a trend ... unless, perhaps, its "Love Story."

Its critics' reviews and early box-office returns suggest a start of the pendulum's swing back to romanticism from blatant sex on the screen.

Or as Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, put it recently in a speech to a Sacramento, Calif., business group:

"My judgment is the sexploitation film, mostly imported from abroad or made cheaply and quickly in this country is fading ... What I think will become the majority of seriously made films in this country is the kind of movie I would call romantic or entertaining."

Critic Kathleen Carroll wrote in The New York Daily News that "Love Story" should bring joy to millions of moviegoers sickened by the overdose of sex and drugs in the movies."

"Unless we are all mad," Charles Champlin wrote in The Los Angeles Times, it "will be an enormous success and almost certainly the most influential movie of the year, heralding more to come."

Early viewers seemed to approve. Paramount Studio says the film broke house box-office records in the first four days of its world premiere booking at two New York theaters.

"Love Story" has Ryan O'Neal, for five years in TV's "Peyton Place," as a hockey-playing Harvard law student in

CAR POOL COMMUNICATION

Dear Helen:

We ride six in a car pool. Four of the others sleep, read, talk—when they feel like it, but don't feel obligated as we're not close friends.

However, one rider and I are long-time friends, and we talk together in a foreign language rollicking love with All MacGraw, a poor but spirited Radcliffe music student.

Their marriage survives his stern father's disapproval and disinheritance but is doomed by her illness. Audience sniffles are like those at tearjerkers of the '30s.

In a handsome production of Erich Segal's script, from which he later wrote his best-selling novel, skin exposure is minimal and lovemaking is hardly more than hinted at.

The film's rating is GP, however—parental guidance suggested—presumably for the profanity Miss MacGraw uses, some critics thought, to excess.

Some reviews were less enthusiastic. Gail Rock of Women's Wear Daily advised: "If you dig high school plays and 1957 fiction from the Saturday Evening Post, you'll love 'Love Story' ... Neither O'Neal nor Miss MacGraw is a very good actor."

Vincent Canby of The New York Times pronounced the picture "beautiful and romantic" and added: "The only really depressing thing about 'Love Story' is the thought of all the terrible imitations that will inevitably follow it."

because this is our native tongue and almost our only chance to "practice" it.

The argument developed that we shouldn't talk so that others can't understand. But if others sleep, yawn, read, etc., why not? Should car pool people consider themselves in a social environment, or just look on this as a means of transportation, like a bus? —RUDE?

Dear Helen:

Why not join the general conversation—if there is any. If not, then you have a right to converse in your native tongue.

A car pool is a social gathering of sorts, and it's everyone's duty to make the ride as pleasant as possible. If you close down communication completely you might miss some valuable friendships. —H.

Dear Helen:

Our home has always been open to our children's friends. Up until this year's experiences, I've liked the young crowd. Now—I don't know.

You can't respect girls who sell themselves cheap and boys who think only of sex. My daughter tells me the only way to have a boy friend is to "put out." In my day, the boy went steady with a good girl, and dated the tramp on the off nights, and everything worked out fine. Today the good girl sits home and prays for a date while these wild ones are having fun and spending the boy's money.

My daughter is a good girl. Fellows think she is a rare jewel, for she's very pretty, but they treat her as a rare jewel by staying their distance. They never ask her out the second time.

This free love scene forces girls to "play the game" when they're not ready. The emphasis on sex makes them afraid to say "No" for two reasons: They'll stay home, and (even more deadly) they'll be considered "frigid." When will girls rise up and tell the world that they simply aren't the highly sexed creatures men dream them to be? Until the absolutely "right" guy comes along. —MOTHER Dear Mother:

I agree with you that over-emphasis of sex has pushed many young people into disastrous affairs, but I don't agree that the "jewels" are all that "rare." Nor are they doomed to datelessness—not if they're attractive, interesting, amusing people who make their viewpoint clear without flaunting the "I'm a good girl" button. Dear Readers: (Male and female)

Here's another question for you. How about it: Does a girl "have to" if she doesn't want to" these days, in order to make the dating scene? —H.

Dear Helen:

Gotcha again! You said (when talking about "hate letters"):

"lady columnists, Yup—even US!" It's "Even WE." —

GRAMMARIAN

Dear Grammarian:

Touche! (But you have to admit, it sounds funny.)

Machine-sewa Baby Quilt

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

January is traditionally the time for major sewing projects. Those who knit and crochet usually turn out an afghan during the winter; we who enjoy sewing can turn our talents to making a quilt.

Though quilt-making is a very old-fashioned art, it can be done on an up-to-the-minute sewing machine. If you've never made a quilt before, the experts at Necchi Sewing Machines suggest you start with an appliqued baby quilt. It's easier to sew than a pieced quilt and easier to handle than a full-sized one.

The quilt shown today measures about 34x44 inches. Made from a transfer pattern, it features adorable baby kittens, ducks, lambs and puppies, each with a tiny flower, dragonfly or bit of grass to complete the picture.

To make this quilt, you need only two yards of cotton broadloom for the lining and the squares, plus another 1½ yards in a contrasting color for the border stripes. You may transfer the pattern directly onto the centers of the 9x9-inch squares and hand-embroider the designs, or you may transfer the designs onto contrasting material and machine-applique them in place.

To do machine applique, cut out figures, leaving 1½-inch seam allowance all around. Back with layer of Pellon. Baste in place along stitch and work around outline. It will be easiest if you outline all your figures first, working on their individual squares with your white (or basic color) thread. Then re-thread your sewing machine with the second-color thread and do contrast and detail sections on each animal.

Quilting is the latest of the needlework arts to enjoy a revival. This adorable baby quilt is a prime example of an updated version of old-fashioned art.

After completing all the applique and embroidery, join blocks and strips. Then lay the cotton batting interlining against the wrong side of the lining and baste the two together. Work around the edges (you may use a long machine stitch for this) and criss-cross through the center. This basting will hold the batting smooth so it won't shift. The side strips are stitched to the edge of the lining, and turned up to cover the appliqued top. This edge may be finished with straight machine stitching, a decorative stitch, a satin stitch or even fine cording.

A baby quilt is easy to make on a sewing machine. Most of the detailed sewing is done on the small squares. At no time is it necessary to get the whole quilt, complete with batting and lining, under the head of the machine. You'll find a quilt like this goes surprisingly fast.

Quilting is enjoying a revival, along with needlepoint, crewel, knitting and crocheting. For modern-day quilters, plenty of patterns, quilt books, and instructions are available.

The baby quilt shown today is made from Anne Cabot Pattern No. 2256, which contains a transfer sheet for the design, a color chart for the embroidery, and full instructions for completing the quilt. To order the pattern, send 50 cents for first-class handling, plus your own name, address and zip, to Stitchin' Time, c/o this newspaper, Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10020.

A complete book on crib quilts is also available. It contains instructions for 12 baby quilts, plus detailed instructions on completing the quilt. To order it, ask for Crib Quilts, Book 104. For first-class handling send 65 cents, plus your name, address and zip, to Stitchin' Time at the above address.

Separation Denied by Royal Pair

LONDON (AP) — A spokesman for Princess Margaret today denied a report in the Washington Post that the Princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, have agreed to separation and divorce.

"It is certainly not true at all," said Maj. John Griffin, the spokesman for the princess.

The marriage has frequently been reported on the rocks in recent years, but each time the reports have been denied. Much of the gossip stems from sharp exchanges in public between the couple.

Quoting close friends and relatives of Lord Snowdon, Post columnist Maxine Cheshire reported in the paper's Tuesday editions the decision to break up was made recently and will be announced soon.

The Post reported that Snowdon has been dating a Vogue Magazine staffer on recent trips to New York and is the one seeking the separation.

Princess Margaret, Queen Elizabeth's younger sister, married Snowdon, then a commoner named Anthony Armstrong-Jones, May 6, 1960. The Post said there have been reports circulating in London society for the past three years of marital discord.

"When a man begins to think seriously of saving for a rainy day, it's probably a rainy day."

Cheerleader Too Much for Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Lanier's late heroics were bad enough but the Detroit Pistons' cheer leader was just too much for the Atlanta Hawks.

The Hawks had to take Lanier's five points in the closing two minutes that led to a 99-97 Detroit victory Tuesday night but they weren't keeping quiet about the cheerleader. The Hawks played the last 43 seconds under protest, contending Detroit Coach Bill Brada Kolff left the bench area to encourage his players.

In other National Basketball Association action, Philadelphia whipped Buffalo 124-113, Milwaukee ripped Cleveland 119-97, Los Angeles upended Chicago 126-117 and Boston tripped San Diego 110-108.

In the American Basketball Association, Virginia drubbed Texas 143-120, the Floridians edged the New York Nets 91-90, Memphis topped Pittsburgh 109-101, Carolina nipped Utah 113-110 and Denver took Indiana 116-106.

With the score tied 88-88, Lanier hit a three-point play, Howie Komives made two foul shots and Lanier put in a jumper to give Detroit its victory.

Jim Walker scored 21 points and Lanier 17 for the Pistons. Lou Hudson led Atlanta with 19.

Philadelphia got by Buffalo when Billy Cunningham gunned in 21 of his 29 points in the last 15 minutes. Archie Clark topped the winners with 36 points. Bob Kauffman led Buffalo with 22.

Milwaukee ran its winning streak to five games and snapped Cleveland's victory string at two. Lew Alcindor and Bob Dandridge each scored 23 points for Milwaukee, which has lost only five in 35 games. John Johnson notched 22 for Cleveland which has won only five of 43 starts.

Will Chamberlain's 34 points plus 27 by Jerry West and 24 by Gail Goodrich smothered the Bulls as Los Angeles zoomed to a 69-52 halftime lead. Bob Love's 31 topped Chicago.

Don Nelson's two late-game buckets and a clinching free throw in the final three seconds turned back the Rockets, who were led by Elvin Hayes with 37 points. John Havlicek's 22 points and 20 by Jo Jo White paced Boston.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson will open Miami's pro football Super Bowl weekend in a Jan. 15th bout with Levi Fite, promoter Chris Dundee announced Tuesday.

The Friday night fight will be Patterson's first since the September match in New York when he knocked out Charlie Green in the 10th round before a roaring Madison Square Garden house.

Peach Bowl Scheduled for 8 p.m.

By ED SHEARER

Associated Press Sports Writer ATLANTA (AP) — Undeclared Arizona State, the nation's No. 8 power, and ball control-minded North Carolina collide tonight in the third annual Peach Bowl football game, a postseason event that has been plagued by rain the last two years.

A day-long rain Tuesday soaked Georgia Tech's Grant Field, site of the 8 p.m. EST kickoff, but the weather bureau forecast fair and cool weather for the game. Each of the two previous Peach Bowls has been played in rain.

Bill Dooley, the Tar Heel coach who counts on a punishing ground assault led by All-American running back Don McCauley, would welcome more rain to slow down the speedy Sun Devils, who have six offensive performers who sprint 100 yards in 9.8 seconds or better.

"After thinking about their speed, I'm a more firm believer in tradition now than ever before," said Dooley, whose Tar Heels are a six-point underdog.

While Dooley frets about speed, ASU Coach Frank Kush, possessor of the second winningest record by percentage in college football, says that speed won't mean much if the Sun Devils can't get the ball.

Dooley's game plan is simple, he says.

"We have to control the ball, grind it out and keep the ball out of their hands," Dooley says.

Arizona State trimmed 10 straight foes, averaging 37.5 points per game. Led by Joe Spagnola, the Sun Devils led the nation in total offense, averaging 514 yards per game.

The Tar Heels, meanwhile, averaged a 411, with 285 of that coming on the ground.

Spagnola passed for 1,891 yards and added 173 on the ground.

McCauley, a 208-pounder, broke the NCAA season rushing mark by running for 1,720 yards for the Atlantic Coast Conference team, which won eight, and lost three.

J. D. Hill, a 9.3 sprinter, heads the ASU receiver corps while fullback Bob Thomas and halfback Monroe Eley accounted for more than 1,600 yards on the ground for the Western Athletic Conference champions.

Although Carolina seldom passes, quarterback Paul Miller compiled a 60 per cent completion mark, hitting on 48 of 80 passes for 728 yards and eight touchdowns.

Southern S. in Win Over Henderson

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) —

Al Flanagan hit 25 points to lead Southern State to a 70-69 victory over Henderson in the Kiwanis Invitational basketball championship here Tuesday night, but the Mulierders almost fumbled the victory away.

Leading 70-60 with 59 seconds left, Southern State made ball-handling errors and Henderson snared the Mulierders' inbounds passes and put in buck-

Carr Leads Irish Over Kentucky

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Here comes Austin Carr ...

oops, there goes Austin Carr.

Notre Dame's point-dealing wizard is the same model as last year, running and gunning as good as new.

The runaway Carr hit eighth-ranked Kentucky with a 50-point performance and led the 15th-ranked Irish to a 99-92 victory in college basketball Tuesday night.

Carr helped Notre Dame accelerate to a 15-4 spree late in the first half that gave the Irish a never-topped 53-39 lead at intermission.

The Wildcats climbed to within five points three times in the second stanza but Notre Dame's freeze-ball tactics killed the comeback try.

DARRELL ROYAL AND HIS LONGHORNS: "Football players don't want to be treated like everyone else."

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEW YORK—(NEA)—To Darrell Royal, the game of football is one of the last bastions of authority and discipline in America—"where a boy makes sacrifices for the good of the team."

The credentials of Darrell Royal as a football coach are impeccable—Coach of the Decade (1960s), Coach of the Year (1970), a national championship team at Texas, undefeated in its last 30 games. He has never had a losing season. His career in handling men goes back to 1950, when he was graduated from Oklahoma as an All-American quarterback.

And still he's only 46 years old, with no gray in his trimly cut brown hair, sideburns above the lobe, no sag in his chin, and still with the boyish smile. He's a natural image. A disarming evangelist.

"When I got into coaching," he says, "it was a selfish thing. It was fun for me; it was what I wanted to do. I'd heard all about the good athletics did for people, but frankly I wasn't in it for that reason. The last five to 10 years I've begun to see that it does have a place."

A specific one in his mind—Texas. "Our campus," he says, "needs something like this. We get 29,000 students out to our games and turn 'em loose to hoot and holler and be for something instead of against it. At the pep rally before the Arkansas game (last in Texas' undefeated season), we had 37,000 people."

And yet he's not blind to the charges of hypocrisy, the criticism of commercialism, the repression of the individual. He simply argues against them.

"The football player doesn't want to be treated like everyone else," he says. "If he did, you could give him a nice sport coat at the end of the season. He doesn't want it. He wants that letter sweater. For him, it's a badge of honor. He likes his picture in the paper and the TV tube; he likes the people in the stands and to be recognized on campus."

"I don't think we're mistreating or abusing our boys. They love those national championship rings. They put it out there where you can see it. They ought to be proud of it. They put a lot of work into it."

Rangers Are Successful But Worried

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League season had stretched some 36 games and, for the New York Rangers, most of it had been successful. Still, defenseman Arnie Brown was worried.

Two years ago, Brown scored 10 goals for the Rangers. Last season he had 15—second highest total for any NHL defenseman. The only blueline man with more was Boston's sensational Bobby Orr who, Brown figures, ought to be in a league of his own anyway.

Then came this season and a big, fat zero in Brown's goalscore column. It was becoming distressing.

Now the pressure's off, Brown got his first goal Tuesday night, and it turned out to be the winner in New York's 3-2 victory over California in the only NHL game scheduled.

The victory stretched New York's home ice unbeaten streak to 19 games this season and 21 over two seasons, matching a club record. It also moved the Rangers into first place in the East Division race, one point ahead of idle Boston. The Bruins have played two fewer games.

Rose Bowl

Ohio State (9-0) vs. Stanford (8-2)

Ohio State's Jimmie Harris

OHIO STATE

Now that the year-long campaign to beat Michigan has been successfully completed, one might wonder if the Rose Bowl will be anticlimactic to the Buckeyes. Woody Hayes has never been beaten in a Rose Bowl and has a good record against teams that feature passing quarterbacks. Tactically, the Buckeyes will be prepared. But emotionally? It's all up to Rex Kern, John Brockington, Jim Stillwagon and Jack Tatum—one more time.

STANFORD

Jim Plunkett, Heisman Trophy winner and the best passer in the school's history, will come out throwing. He doesn't have much of a running game to turn to if the Buckeye pass rush starts getting to him, as it probably will. Stanford hasn't been in a Rose Bowl since 1952, when it lost to Illinois. 40-7. Plunkett's only chance, it seems, is to put a couple of touchdowns on the board early—and force the Bucks to play catch-up. Don't bet on it happening, though.

Prediction: Ohio State, 42-14.

Schmeling, Charles in Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Ezzard Charles and Max Schmeling, two former world heavyweight champions, are the latest fighters to make boxing's Hall of Fame.
Charles, Schmeling and the late Harry Wills, professor Mike Donovan and Kid Williams were elected Tuesday, bringing to 107 the number of ring greats in the Hall.
Charles, 49, and suffering from lateral sclerosis, and Schmeling, 65, and a prosperous businessman in Germany, were named to the Modern group.
Wills, a top-notch heavyweight, was elected by the Old-Timers Committee as was Williams, a former bantamweight champion. Donovan, a former middleweight king, was named by the Hall of Fame's directors.

Fears Liberal Policy of West Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says he fears West Germany's new liberal policy toward the Soviet Union might lead to "diplomatic adventures" between the two nations, thus imperiling the Western Alliance.

Ball, who is in touch with foreign policy leaders in and out of the Nixon administration, expressed general confidence in Chancellor Willy Brandt, but questioned Bonn's future course when Brandt is no longer in power.

In spite of overall support of Brandt's ability, Ball criticized the West German leader for failing to get "serious concessions" from Moscow in recent negotiations on a nonaggression treaty. He also called for a slowdown in Brandt's whole drive to work out other agreements with Moscow.

Ball, undersecretary of state in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations and a long-time champion of Western European union and alliance with the United States, made clear in an Associated Press interview he is worried about a potential West Germany swing away from the Atlantic alliance toward Moscow.

The Nixon administration publicly approves Brandt's policy. But Ball spelled out reservations and fears held privately by some influential government men.

These officials insist they are not implacably opposed to Brandt's policy but want it carried out very cautiously without giving the Soviet Union undue advantage.

Brandt has pinned final ratification of the nonaggression pact the foundation piece of his new policy—to a Soviet-Western agreement Berlin.

There appear to be some fears in Washington that Brandt may find it difficult to hold to his price for ratification in his eagerness to accomplish his Russian policy.

Here are questions and answers from the Bell interview: Q. Are you an opponent of Chancellor Brandt's efforts to conclude a nonaggression treaty with Russia?

A. I do not oppose Chancellor Brandt's wish to conclude treaties with the Soviet Union or with Poland that may ease the lot of the peoples concerned.

Although the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1968 showed how illusory is a non-aggression pact with the Soviet Union, my concerns relate ...

The British scientists have not to the speed with which he has proceeded and the failure to insist on serious concessions from the Soviet Union.

The critical test will be whether the chancellor's government withholds final ratification until something significant is achieved in the four-power (U.S., Soviet, British, French) talks on Berlin.

Q. Do you think the U.S. support for Brandt's policy toward Russia is contrary to U.S. interests in Europe?

A. Our government's attitude toward the treaty is not so much one of support as one of benign noninterference. My impression is that the government received support at the December NATO meeting from Britain and France for its effort to slow down the momentum of the Soviet timetable which envisages a European security conference as the obvious next step after the Bonn-Moscow agreement.

America feels under restraint in expressing its cautionary reservations. Since it cannot offer the realistic prospect of reunification it feels diffident about appearing to oppose a normalization of relations based on recognition of the status quo that might ease or give hope of easing the lot of the German people.

Deep-freeze Babies Seen in Future

CHICAGO (AP) — The future birth of "deep-freeze babies"—conceived from eggs and sperm preserved for years in the frozen state—is forecast by a noted American geneticist.

Dr. Bentley Glass, retiring president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said Monday the technique would allow young couples to delay the birth of their children without risking the higher probability of genetic defects normally associated with advancing age.

He said the young couple could have their genetically healthy reproductive cells stored in a scientific deep-freeze for years, then combined in a laboratory incubator to produce a fertilized egg for implantation and growth within the mother's womb.

Glass, academic vice president of the State University of New York, Stony Brook, said this is one of various science-fiction-like possibilities for the future growing out of "startling progress" being made by a group of researchers at Cambridge University, England.

He was referring to the work of Dr. R. G. Edwards and collaborators who have succeeded in fertilizing human female eggs with fresh sperm outside the womb, and developing them to the stage at which they would normally become implanted in the wall of a woman's womb.

Complains Manson Is Being Lynched

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles Manson's attorney has told the jury in the Sharon Tate murder trial "This case is a lynching. They are trying to lynch Mr. Manson."

Thus, Irving Kanarek began his final summation Tuesday, saying that the hippie-style clan leader had been a victim of prejudicial pre-trial publicity created while he "has been sitting in a dungeon."

Kanarek was the third defense attorney to speak during the day's court session.

Earlier, chief defense counsel Paul Fitzgerald finished a day and half of argument attacking state's evidence against his client Patricia Krenwinkel and her codefendants.

Manson and three young women are charged with murder-conspiracy in the August 1969 slayings of Miss Tate and six others.

The second attorney to speak, Daye Shinn, representing Susan Atkins, 22, spoke for an hour. His main point was that the key witnesses against Miss Atkins were two women ex-felons who told of purported jail cell confessions by her.

"All you had to say was that you wanted to testify in the Tate case and they let you out of jail," he said.

Fitzgerald, in the second day of his presentation, zeroed in on two key points in the case against the 22-year-old Miss Krenwinkel—a fingerprint found at the Tate house and testimony for the state by a 17-year-old girl ex-member of Manson's "family."

"A fingerprint is just circumstantial evidence," said Fitzgerald. He said the print, identified as Miss Krenwinkel's, could have been made prior to the night of the killings.

Young hippie types frequently attended parties at the actress' home, said Fitzgerald, declaring "It is entirely reasonable that Patricia Krenwinkel was at that house as an invited guest or a friend."

The attorney noted that 25 unidentified fingerprints were found throughout the Tate house and said any of them might belong to the real killers.

Fitzgerald attacked at length the testimony of Dianne Lake, who testified for the prosecution that Miss Krenwinkel told her she had dragged Abigail Folger, one of the victims, from a bedroom to the living room of the Tate house.

Many Gather for Funeral of Rivers

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Many of the nation's top government and military officials gathered here for the funeral today of Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Afternoon services for the South Carolina Democrat were scheduled at the Grace Episcopal Church with burial in the Episcopal Church cemetery 40 miles away at St. Stephen, in the South Carolina low country where he was born 65 years ago.

Rivers died Monday in Birmingham, Ala., 17 days after he underwent surgery to replace a faulty heart valve with one made of plastic.

Thousands filed through the church Tuesday after the casket had been placed in the nave.

Rivers had been a member of Congress for 30 years. He was elected to his 16th term, without opposition, in November.

Can Trade Food Stamps for Cash

By DON M. KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has insisted all along that the nation's food stamp program prevents recipients from spending the coupons on such goods as liquor, cigarettes, soap and toilet paper.

Now, under a new Agriculture Department policy, if a stamp user moves briskly enough he might be able to collect enough cash in change from food stamps to pay for a cup of New Year's cheer.

Or possibly a bar of soap.

Effective today, the department said, grocers will be permitted to pay up to 49 cents cash as change from food stamp sales. This rule will apply to each coupon transaction.

Until now, change for stamps amounting to less than 50 cents had to be in the form of credit slips issued the customer by the store. These could be traded later only at the same store and for approved items on the stamp list.

But now, with customers able to get up to 49 cents cash each time they spend food stamps, there are no restrictions on spending the change they collect.

Another new rule will allow food stamps to be used for bottle or other container deposits on eligible items. Previously, a customer could buy a bottle of milk with stamps but had to pay cash for the deposit.

Department officials said the rule changes were requested by food stamp users—totaling 9 million persons—and by retail grocers. They are aimed at speeding up food stamp transactions, the department said.

Food stamps are sold to eligible low-income people and include bonus coupons so that their buying power at grocery stores is increased.

Nationally, the average food stamp recipient spends about $4 on stamps which buy $10 worth of groceries.

Man's Friend Public Health Nuisance

By C. G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Man's best friend is becoming a public health nuisance.

That's the conclusion of a Baltimore researcher who has been studying the habits of Old Rover and his canine pals.

The researcher, Alan M. Beck, prepared a report on his findings for today's program at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Beck, a graduate student in the Johns Hopkins University school of hygiene and public health, elaborated on his study in an interview, in which he pointed out that the dog population in the United States is growing faster than the human population.

It is estimated, Beck said, that there are 61,000 dog bites a year in the United States. While the danger of rabies in this country is not great at present, the bites are painful and children particularly can be badly hurt, he said.

As American cities spread, the danger of rabies increases, Beck said, because foxes and other animals which carry the disease live in the nearby wooded areas.

In the Baltimore area, for example, there have been three recent attacks by packs of dogs, he said. In one, 49 animals were killed in the zoo and the two others involved serious injury to young children.

Plan Devised to Sell Rare Silver Dollars

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rider on a bank regulatory bill could spur a silver dollar rush by collectors for at least $90 million in uncirculated cartwheels.

About 2.8 million of these rare-date coins left in U.S. vaults since they emerged from the Carson City, Nev., mint in the 19th Century—would be sold under a plan approved by the Coinage Commission in May 1969.

Now, as part of one-bank holding company legislation on President Nixon's desk, Congress has authorized transfer of the silver dollars—some of them still in original mint bags—to the Treasury to the General Services Administration for auction. Proceeds from the public sale will go to the Treasury.

Officials at GSA, who never have handled this big a coin sale, are reluctant to say how much they expect to make on the deal—but they note these silver dollars, minted from 1878 to 1891, are conservatively valued by coin experts at more than $90 million.

GSA official Louis Brooks said the agency will set up a task force to settle on arrangements for the sale and seek $2 million to $3 million from Congress to pay for processing the anticipated flood of orders.

There will be a listing of the 10 years represented in the Carson City group—from 1878 to 1885 inclusive, plus 1890 and 1891—and a designated price for each. Buyers would be permitted to have just one coin from each year—with no one getting more than 10 coins.

If there are more requests for a specific year than there are coins to go around, the dollars will go to the highest bidder.

"These are 90 per cent silver and very valuable. The base prices will be set in advance by the government and will bear some reasonable relation to market values—but there will be a device under which people who order could, in effect, bid a higher price."

The measure also authorizes a new dollar coin bearing a likeness of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower on one side—with the other side having a design emblematic of the symbolic eagle of Apollo 11 landing on the moon.

There would be 150 million dollars of 40 per cent silver—to be sold at a premium—with general circulation versions made of composition metal like the present quarter and dime.

No silver dollars have been minted since 1935. Circulation was stopped in 1964 because the remaining ones were worth much more than $1 as collectors items.

Study of Way to Improve Local Program

Dr. Audrey Norris confers with members of the Language Arts Department including Mrs. Bessie Jones, Mrs. Mildred McPherson, and Mrs. Anna Mae Williams.

Furthering their study of ways to improve the instructional program, members of the Yerger Junior High School and Hope High School faculties met with a guest consultant for dinner, a lecture session, and departmental meetings under ESAP Title 45.

Dr. Audrey Norris, staff member of the University of Cincinnati, was the specialist speaker. She is director of a curriculum study in Cincinnati which is entitled "Tomorrow's Educational System Today."

In her address Thursday night she stated that countless research projects are revealing the individual needs of students. She shared ten teaching ideas she has found in elementary and secondary schools and recorded on video film.

She concluded with the quotation: "The only educated man is the man who has learned how to learn."

On Friday she met with math, English, science, and social studies departments to discuss informally their special questions about individualized instruction. Members of the administrative staff class-sat for the teachers during their conference periods with Dr. Norris.

This is the second in-service session in which the group has studied individualized instruction. Some social studies, English, science and math classes are already experimenting with the "new concept" of individualization and most are searching for ways to improve instruction or at least to make it relevant to the seventies.

Escapes Are Recaptured

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two of the eight men who escaped Dec. 22 from the Pulaski County Penal Farm were arrested Tuesday. Another had been arrested earlier.

Pingree N. Rhodes III, 20, was arrested at his home in Little Rock and Julius Foster, 22, was arrested as he walked along Arkansas 10 near the penal farm.

Marvin J. Carter, 18, of Jacksonville, was arrested in Little Rock shortly after the escape.

Roy Anderson's
Classic Account of
Case of the Shingles

Not long after I left Hope (Aug. 14) for eye and dental surgery at Sarasota, Fla., where two sisters and a brother live, our own Roy Anderson was taken to Hempstead Memorial Hospital here with a severe case of the shingles.

On his bed of pain Roy recalled the tribulations of Job and his endless crop of boils, reread a couple of books in the Bible—and wrote two letters to me at Sarasota, which I regard as a classic account of the miseries of the shingles. Here are the letters—all of the Sept. 23rd, and most of the Sept. 13th:

Hope, Ark.
Sept. 13, 1970

Dear Alex: Here it is Sunday and in the hospital (Hempstead Memorial, (Drs. Wright and Holt)—I had a bad night (at home) last Wednesday, and in getting up to shave and shower I happened to glance in the mirror and saw I was all broken out with red bumps and I looked like a spotted ape or a leopard. Mary Sue (his daughter) immediately called the Doc, who said come at once to the hospital.

Arrived at hospital at 7:30 a.m. Thursday and here I have been ever since. They described it as the shingles and I am sure Dr. Yeager (ed's brother-in-law) knows that is.

If it's shingles they must be asbestos ones because it's a so tough. Blisters form and they burst, then it takes a lot of treatment to dry them up. Painful, but I know God never lets us have pain that he doesn't give us the strength to bear it. So much for my ailment. Now how about yours? I am deeply concerned and trust the treatment you receive will work out to your satisfaction. Love

Roy

Hope, Ark.
Sept. 23, 1970

Dear Alex: Here it is — fall equinox — the beginning of Fall. The trees are still green, the grass is green and needs mowing — and here I am like you — cooped up, and can't move about. If you can't read this — maybe Miss Martha or Miss Elizabeth can read it to you.

Visiting hours are 2 to 4, and that's when I take my nap — so miss seeing many who call to visit. Mary Sue has a sign on the door "Limit Visit to 5 Minutes" — they obey, as they get on my nerves, though I love them for calling.

After many hours in the same room, you have time to think. I was thinking back to my last long stay in the hospital about 30 or 35 years ago — broke — crippled with arthritis and Dr. Lyle sent me to Hot Springs for the baths. Vera — trying to care for her invalid mother — and run the office. I was down and out physically, financially, and mentally. I had a tablet to write notes to Vera and after 20 days, had to have a haircut. I hobbled down to the Barber Shop, with a walking cane that Robert Wilson had brought me, — and I didn't want to see anyone nor talk to anyone, — so as I entered the barber shop, got my memo — tab — and wrote, "A haircut only" — handed to the barber. He obeyed, didn't say anything to me — when the barber at the next chair asked my barber: "What you got there, Joe?" His reply, "Oh, some deaf and dumb B . . . over here for the baths!" I couldn't laugh, but when I left, I stopped at the door to say loud and clear, "Thank you, boys."

That's the way I feel now — I love my friends, but it gets on my nerves to talk or listen.

I get news from you through Gene who comes by when he feeds your dog, and I trust and pray you will get the treatment you need.

Doc says I'm getting better, and the sores are drying up, but it's slow. Says have the patience of Job, and maybe that's what Job had — the shingles. In the Gideon Bible here in my room, I've read the book of Job, and the book of James, but my eyes peter out. With the help of a Negro

Loses in Population

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The final 1970 census figures show Arkansas with a population of 1,923,295, up 37,085 from the preliminary report in August and up 137,023 from 1960.

The report also said Hot Spring and Cross counties had population gains, rather than losses previously reported. The 29 counties remaining on the loss list are Arkansas, Bradley, Calhoun, Chicot, Clay, Cleveland, Columbia, Dallas, Desha, Drew, Greene, Hempstead, Jackson, Lafayette, Lawrence, Lee, Lincoln, Mississippi, Monroe, Nevada, Newton, Ouachita, Phillips, Poinsett, Prairie, St. Francis, Searcy, Union and Woodruff.

Pulaski County gained 18.2 per cent over the 1960 population and has a total of 287,189. Jefferson County was next most populous with 85,329, followed by Sebastian with 79,237 and Washington with 77,370. The count showed Hempstead's 1970 population 19,306 and 19,661 in 1960. Howard County gained from 10,878 in 1960 to 11,412 in 1970. Lafayette County dropped from 11,030 in 1960 to 10,018 in 1970. Nevada County also declined from 10,700 in 1960 to 10,111 in the 1970 count.

Give my love to the girls.
Sincerely,
Roy Anderson

Editor's Rejoinder: Roy had it rough by comparison. My operations were successful, with little pain—but endless waiting during four months of inaction, just as though you were in jail. Roy had it just about as long, and with all the pain that shingles are noted for. The reason I know is that about 20 years ago my late brother-in-law, F. M. Gibson, had the shingles—and spent much of the day sitting in a bathtub full of oatmeal.

Roy was wrong about one thing, however—I was able to read his letters. And since my sister Martha (Mrs. F. M. Gibson) didn't get to perform the job for me she took the letters over to the Sarasota Yacht Club and read them to the ladies of the twice-a-week bridge club—and Roy's letters proved to be show-stoppers.

They say the world loves fellowship in misery—but Roy and I have had enough.

SS Benefits Hike May
Flounder as Congress
Bickers Over SST BillBy WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bickering 91st Congress scheduled another attempt today to resolve the controversy that may yet keep it in session as long as the law allows: the future of the supersonic transport plane.

While the House and Senate settled one major problem Tuesday night by passing a $66.6-billion defense appropriations bill, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said "there's still a long tunnel ahead."

Mansfield said it appears Congress will have to keep working into the weekend, and possibly until noon Sunday—the final moment the 91st can do business.

After that, the Constitution says the Capitol belongs to the 92nd Congress, which actually doesn't plan to meet until Jan. 21.

The Senate Tuesday tabled, thus killing a compromise $7-billion transportation appropriations bill that includes $210 million to subsidize the airplane. The Senate earlier had voted to spend nothing at all.

That action prepared the way for a new conference with the House, which first voted $290 million for the SST and then accepted the conference recom-

As the New Year Nears
Now Is Time to Take
Mental Stock of Self

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — As the old year wanes and the new year looms, now is as good a time as any to take mental stock of yourself.

Well, here's an easy way to find out how normal you are. Simply ask yourself the following questions:

Do you sometimes have an impulse to put your head under water and keep it there just to drown out the noises of this world?

Would you conscientiously return a dime to someone who overpaid you that amount in making change? Would you do the same thing if the sum was a million dollars?

Naturally, your own merit has gone largely unrecognized, but if you had the chance would you like to change places with your boss—that is, you would have his income but would also have to go home to his wife?

Do you feel criminals should be punished because they are guilty of a wrongdoing, or because the only reason they let themselves be caught at all is because they have an inner compulsion to pay a penalty?

If asked how many faucets there are on a milk cow, would you make an under error?

When a man next to you in church falls asleep, do you brusquely kick his ankle to

Bill Limits
Activities
in SE Asia

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capping a year-long effort, Congress has completed passage of a three-part package limiting, with White House approval, U.S. activities in Southeast Asia.

The final step came Tuesday night when the Senate passed 70 to 2 the $66.6 billion defense appropriation bill. The measure bars U.S. combat ground forces from Laos and Thailand, but permits continued American support of South Vietnamese efforts in Cambodia and Laos.

The House passed the bill earlier in the day 234 to 18, and President Nixon is expected to sign it later in the week.

Together with two other bills — the $19.9 billion military procurement authorization bill and a supplementary foreign aid measure containing $255 million for Cambodia — the action eliminated one major area that had threatened to delay adjournment of the 91st Congress.

Senate war critics held up a previous version of the defense spending bill because of a loophole in the ban on U.S. combat ground troops.

They permitted action on the defense appropriation legislation after receiving assurances it would not authorize a South Vietnamese invasion of North Vietnam to free U.S. prisoners.

The three sections of the final package include: —The ban on U.S. combat ground troops in Laos and Thailand, first passed in last year's defense money bill, renewed in the present legislation.

—A comprehensive provision restricting U.S. activities in Cambodia, including a ban on ground combat troops and military advisers, a statement that U.S. aid does not mean a U.S. commitment to defend Cambodia, and a requirement for advance notice to Congress of future aid transfers to Cambodia.

This was passed in the aid bill authorizing the $255 million for Cambodia. —Limitations on U.S. assistance to Vietnamese and other nations such as Thailand and Korea, prohibiting funds to them to provide military support and assistance to the governments of Laos and Cambodia.

—The transfer raised South Vietnam's naval strength to 1,500 vessels, the largest of them being several 316-foot LSTs.

The ceremony marked the end of an important phase of the U.S. combat role in Vietnam, inshore naval patrols which have been in operation since 1965 along the coast and on the rivers and canals. The so-called "brown water navy" was the U.S. Navy's first river combat force since the Civil War.

A few U.S. naval advisers will remain on duty with the Vietnamese Navy. Two U.S. Navy combat aircraft units—a helicopter squadron and a transport squadron—will remain on duty with the Vietnamese Navy.

The commission also presented another 10-year plan, which would cost $74.2 million, and recommended the more expensive approach on grounds that a higher degree of rehabilitation would result.

The less expensive plan would involve a minimal construction program, existing chiefly of the improvements that already are under way at Cummins Prison Farm.

Those improvements include construction of a maximum security unit and remodeling of kitchen facilities. About $15 million in construction, including development of a women's reformatory at Little Rock, was suggested under the bigger plan, which also envisioned community treatment centers, and other facilities.

Give Hope Very Bright
Future in New Year

AP News Digest

The year 1970 has seen an unusual lot of development in and around the City of Hope. The City is larger, for one thing, over 1100 acres have been added to the city limits. While the annexation had been approved by the voters prior to 1970, the land was actually served only during the year, and has now been rezoned for orderly development. The newly annexed areas include both interchanges on Interstate 30 and extend north of the Interstate about 1800 feet.

Building permits issued in the city during the year totaled $1,591,380. This was an increase of over one-half million dollars over 1969. Totals included in the building permits are always a lot lower than the actual cost. Actual construction, was nearer $2.25 million. This does not include construction outside the city. Cornbelt Hatcheries and the Kroger Company have nearly three million dollars

Israel Will

Conditionally

Israeli Premier Golda Meir says her government will not make peace with the Arabs unless it gets "defensible" frontiers and retains control of Jerusalem.

But she also said Tuesday that Israel, bolstered by new support from the United States, is re-entering the peace negotiations at the United Nations "ready not only to present our position but also to listen."

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, speaking in Cairo, labeled Israel's decision to return to the peace talks a "maneuver" and ordered his country to get ready for deep Israeli raids after the Middle East cease-fire expires Feb. 5.

He gave virtual assurance that Egypt will not agree to extension of the cease-fire without a timetable for Israeli withdrawal from territories occupied in the June 1967 war.

Sadat spoke at a closed meeting of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party. Cairo newspapers reported the speech.

Mrs. Meir spoke before the Knesset, Israel's parliament, after it voted 77-27 and with 9 abstentions to rejoin the negotiations with U.N. mediator Gunnar Jarring as the go-between. Israel withdrew from the talks Sept. 6, before they really got started, charging that Egypt had violated the cease-fire by moving anti-aircraft missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

Mrs. Meir urged Egypt to agree to an extension of the cease-fire and warned Cairo against any renewal of the fighting.

Commutes
15 Death
Sentences

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, saying he hoped other governors would follow his example, commuted to life the sentences of the 15 men on Arkansas' death row Tuesday. The prisoners were jubilant, while legislators were dismayed.

Rockefeller, 58, said his only reason for granting the commutations was that he was unalterably opposed to the death penalty. He said he would remain so as long as he lives.

Nine of the men, four whites and five blacks, were sentenced for murder. Six others, all blacks, were sentenced for rape of white women. The action came two weeks before Rockefeller is to leave office.

Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers, who will succeed Rockefeller Jan. 12, did say whether he agreed with Rockefeller's decision.

"I know he acted in accordance with his personal philosophy," Bumpers said. "I'm sure he had sufficient information to justify it in his own mind the action that he took."

Albert Harris, 28, a Negro under death sentence in the rape of a white woman eight years ago, "after hearing of his reprieve, 'Long as a man got life, he's got a chance.'"

Said John Henry Sheppard, 26, a black: "Thank Governor Rockefeller and God." A Bible lay beside Sheppard as his bunk in death row.

Larry McGwire, superintendent of the Tucker Prison Farm that houses death row, said the 15 men were "very elated, very happy" at the news.

But State Rep. G. W. "Daddy" Turner of Pine Bluff said he had heard Rockefeller's message to the convicts and "now I'd like to have his message to the victims."

State Sen. Olen Fendrix of Prescott said he was shocked.

"I've always felt that the people who heard the message and the presiding judge should know more about how to handle a sentence than a chief executive."

Seven other men are confined on death row and had been under death sentence, but the Arkansas Supreme Court has ordered new trials in their cases.

Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver said Rockefeller's wholesale commutations was unprecedented in Arkansas. He said he was thrilled by Rockefeller's action.

The Rev. J. F. Cooley, a civil rights activist and member of the Shorter College faculty, called Rockefeller's decision a "great act of Christian faith."

A prosecuting attorney, Beryl Anthony Jr. of El Dorado, told newsmen, however, that he believed Rockefeller should have waited so the various appeals of the prisoners could run their course.

"It sounds to me like the governor has taken a tremendous burden upon himself and has short-circuited and relieved various courts that have got jurisdiction of the various cases under consideration at the present time," Anthony said.

Rockefeller, announcing his decision at a news conference, said there had been "extraordinarily little pressure either way" during his announced deliberations of the cases.

The governor said he would send a copy of his announcement to other state chief executives so they would know what he has done. He stopped short of urging them to follow his example, but said he hoped would.

Rockefeller declared a moratorium on executions when he became governor four years ago. He had commuted no death sentences until Tuesday because, he said, he had hoped the U.S. Supreme Court would declare the penalty unconstitutional.

He said he wanted to "hasten
